2. What is the lawful basis for the processing of my personal data?

bunq processes your personal data in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations based on several legal grounds.

Legal requirements

We process your personal data to comply with our legal obligations, for example to verify your identity, research the use of our accounts and to be able to share certain data with governmental institutions.

Contract performance

To keep our agreement with you and to provide our services in a well and secure manner, we process your personal data. For example, we need your contact information to keep you informed about relevant developments, and we store correspondence data to improve our customer service.

Consent

In certain conditions, you are able to provide us with explicit or implicit consent for processing personal data. For example, while using the app you can choose to provide access to your contact list, to upload images/content or to create a public bunq.me link.

Legitimate interests

We can also process certain data when we have a legitimate interest to do so, for example to prevent and combat misuse, fraud and crimes, to analyse the use of our products and services for marketing purposes or for information and system security.

3. For what purposes does bunq use my personal data?

We use your personal data to:

- Comply with legal obligations;
- Execute agreements with our users, for example for processing payments, production of bunq cards, securing bunq accounts, identification purposes and customer support;
- Learn more about the use of our products and services so we can improve them;
- Carrying out and personalising (targeted) marketing activities through different channels and measure their effectiveness, based on your personal circumstances and use of our products and services;
- Conduct analyses for statistical, strategic and scientific purposes;
- Prevent and combat misuse, fraud and crimes;
- Ensure the safety and integrity of the financial sector, bunq and our users;
- Training and coaching purposes.

4. Does bunq share my personal data with third parties?

To be able to provide our services, we share certain personal data with third parties. We keep the sharing to a minimum and ensure these third parties will handle your personal data with the same care as we do. This means, among other things, we sign Data Processing Agreements and that parties are EU-U.S. Privacy Shield certified or use the standard contract clauses adopted by the European Commission for personal data protection.

An overview of the third parties or categories of third parties with whom we share data can be found below. Next to this privacy statement, additional privacy statements or policies from these third parties may apply.

Onfido Limited

To verify your identification document and identity, we use the services of third-party supplier Onfido Limited (Finsbury Avenue 3, EC2M 2PA London, United Kingdom).

bunq

To offer you Apple Pay and Google Pay services, we use the technology from Apple Inc (One Apple Park Way, Cupertino, CA 95014, USA) and Google LLC (600 Amphitheatre Parkway, CA 94043, Mountain View, USA). When you decide to use these services, please take notice of the separate terms and conditions with regard to data sharing.

MaxMind

To verify your location, assure your bunq cards arrive at the correct address and for fraud prevention, we use the technology of MaxMind (14 Spring Street, MA 02451, Waltham, USA). For these purposes, location, usage data and your e-mail address is shared to provide and help improve the services.

Cash Payment Solutions

To offer you the services of Cash Payment Solutions to be able to deposit and withdraw cash at various locations where available, we use the services of Cash Payment Solutions GmbH (Wallstr. 14a 10179 Berlin, Germany). For these purposes, data is shared such as location data in order to show you their nearest locations.

TapiX

In order to offer you the bunq feature Insights, we make use of the services of Tapix (Dateio s.r.o., Impact Hub Praha, Drtinova 10, Praha 5 – Smichov, Czech Republic). For these purposes, anonymized payment information is shared, for Tapix to enrich your transactions with details about your payment.

Other suppliers

- Card suppliers for producing and delivering bunq cards;
- Email, marketing and ad services for managing and executing service emails, direct marketing emails and setting up marketing campaigns;
- SMS providers for sending SMS messages;
- (Outsourced) customer support services;
- Payment institutions for processing transactions and safeguarding the safety and integrity of the financial sector.

Governmental institutions

To comply with laws and regulations we can share data with the concerned institutions. For example, the Tax Authorities can request financial data and we can share data with the Dutch Central Bank for participating in the Deposit Guarantee Scheme. Next to this, bunq can have a statutory or legal obligation to share personal data with investigating authorities to prevent and combat misuse, fraud and crimes.

5. How long does bunq store my data?

For a large amount of data, we are legally obliged to retain this for a minimum of 5 to 7 years after ending the customer relationship. After this period, we don't store your personal data longer than legally allowed and no longer than necessary for the purposes the data was collected for.

We are able to store personal data for longer periods with a valid legal ground, or when the data is sufficiently (for example) pseudonymised or anonymised.

6. What are my rights?

You have the possibility to access your personal data, to receive an overview of your personal data and, in case of incorrect data or when we, based on the relevant laws and regulations, do not longer need the data, to correct or delete the data. You can also ask us to transfer your data to another organization, when technically feasible, in cases where we process your data based on your consent or contract performance.

Next to this, you have the possibility to revoke the permissions you've provided us for the processing of some of your personal data or request us to limit the use of your personal data.

7. Revoking & limiting consent

When you have provided us with permission to process personal data, or when we process your personal data based on legitimate interests, you are able to revoke this permission in an easy manner or ask us to limit the use of your data. Revoking your permissions does not mean that stored data is deleted.

Direct marketing & usage data

If you do not want your data to be used for direct marketing activities and analysis of the usage of our products and services, you can let us know via the bunq app anytime. Next to this, our communication via email contains the possibility to unsubscribe from these messages.

GPS and access to your contact list

While using the bunq app, you can provide permission to your contact list and to process location data. If you no longer want to use location data, or if you no longer want to provide access to your contact list in the bunq app, you can revoke these permissions easily. You'll find the settings for the bunq app at the settings for installed apps on your device. You can revoke provided permissions at any given moment.

Uploaded images/content

Images and content that you use to personalise your bunq account or improve your app experience can be easily changed in the bunq app.

Public bunq.me profile

When you create a public bunq.me profile, your nickname and IBAN are visible for anyone that visits your public bunq.me profile for making payments. You can deactivate your bunq.me page with the accompanying data at any given time via the bunq app.

Phone number and email aliases

At signup we connect your phone number and email address to your bunq account as aliases. This allows other bunq users to easily transfer money to your bank account(s), as your bunq account (and IBAN) will show up in their contact list. You can easily disconnect aliases from your bank account(s) via the settings of the selected bank account.

Cookies

For more information on how to delete cookies, please see our Cookie Statement.

8. Changes to the Privacy & Cookie Statement

We are always improving and expanding our products and services. This might cause our data processing to change. When we change something, we will adjust our Privacy & Cookie Statement accordingly. You can always find the latest version on our website and in the app.

9. Complaints

When you have a complaint about the data processing by bunq, you can contact our Data Protection Officer via privacy@bunq.com.

In case you disagree with the handling of your complaint, you are able to file a complaint at the Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens.

Cookies

1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small (text)files we send to your device when you use or visit our products, services, ads and websites. The files are stored on your device.

2. Why does bunq use cookies?

We use cookies to:
